SPOTLIGHT ON ...

SECURING FINANCIAL STABILITY

Construction of the Kentucky Market Pavilion, adjacent to the Bath County Extension Office and overseen by the Bath County Agricultural Foundation, was completed in late 2010. Open in April 2011, this $1 million structure was funded through grants from several entities, including USDA Rural Economic Development and the Appalachian Regional Commission. Bath County Extension staff worked with the Foundation to oversee planning, construction, hiring of a manager, and leasing of the deli/bakery located in the market. To date, over 50 Kentucky vendors have placed products in the market, which provides an outlet for Kentucky-produced, value-added products to supplement farm and family income. The market draws local visitors and daily traffic that pass the site on I-64 and US 60.
