SPOTLIGHT ON ...

HEALTH AND WEALTH

As part of the Managing in Tough Times Initiative, the Cumberland County Cooperative Extension Service hosted the "Small Steps to Health and Wealth Online Challenge." The online challenge is a six-week program that allows participants to track the daily choices they make related to nutrition, physical activity, and personal finance. Eleven consumers ages 21-71 participated in the 2014 online challenge. Participant outcomes included consuming at least 496 cups of fruits and vegetables; exercising a minimum of 3,810 minutes or 63.5 hours, tracking 460,000 steps with a pedometer; saving more than $154 in loose change, tracking daily expenditures 130 times, and preparing 119 lunches at home, saving approximately $714.

Housing has long been recognized as a basic human need. Yet, because housing is often a family's largest expense and largest debt, it can be a stumbling block for many. Safe, lower-cost housing options are often limited for struggling families, and this can lead them into crisis. Family and Consumer Sciences Extension helps people improve home safety, lessen their environmental footprint, and strengthen financial stability. It also helps communities promote healthy lifestyles throughout the lifespan by supporting strong family home environments. Please tell us ways you think we can do more.
