SPOTLIGHT ON ...

JOB CLUB NETWORKING

n the second and fourth Tuesday each month, the Fayette County Cooperative Extension office is buzzing with the mantra ABN -Always Be Networking as members of the Job Club meet. The club was developed to meet the needs of residents who were unemployed or underemployed. Job Club reached more than 800 adults in 2014, with 35 to 75 people attending each session. Participants range in age from early 20s to over 70 and have varied work experience and education. A follow-up survey reported 78% became employed or improved their career status. FCS partnered with the University of Kentucky Alumni Association and local businesses to provide a positive atmosphere for motivated job seekers in need of job search strategies and financial and benefit management.

ousing has long been recognized as a basic human need. Yet, because housing is often a family's largest expense and largest debt, it can be a stumbling block for many. Safe, lower-cost housing options are often limited for struggling families, and this can lead them into crisis. Family and Consumer Sciences Extension helps people improve home safety, lessen their environmental footprint, and strengthen financial stability. It also helps communities promote healthy lifestyles throughout the lifespan by supporting strong family home environments. Please tell us ways you think we can do more.
