SPOTLIGHT ON ...

COMMUNITY WALKING PROGRAM

The Fleming County Cooperative Extension Office implemented a six-week walking program for employees of local businesses. A total of 27 teams, with 153 participants, attended the program. The teams logged a total of 15,347 miles throughout the program. During lunch breaks, participants used tracks at the city reservoir and the industrial park. Evaluations showed that 100% of the participants view physical activity as important. All participants also reported that they plan to continue to walk at least 3 to 5 days a week for 30 minutes per day. Various participants reported achieving some of the following goals: weight loss, lower blood pressure or cholesterol numbers, and improved self-esteem.

Housing has long been recognized as a basic human need. Yet, because housing is often a family's largest expense and largest debt, it can be a stumbling block for many. Safe, lower-cost housing options are often limited for struggling families, and this can lead them into crisis. Family and Consumer Sciences Extension helps people improve home safety, lessen their environmental footprint, and strengthen financial stability. It also helps communities promote healthy lifestyles throughout the lifespan by supporting strong family home environments. Please tell us ways you think we can do more.
