SPOTLIGHT ON ...

TRUTH AND CONSEQUENCES

The Owsley County Cooperative Extension Service offered 9th- and 12th-grade students its annual "Truth and Consequences: The Choice is Yours" which has reached 445 students since it began four years ago. Truth and Consequences is a substance-abuse prevention activity that shows students the impact of being involved with illicit and illegal substances. Students role play different scenarios, including possession of prescription drugs and driving under the influence. As part of the role play, students visit appropriate officials and agencies to face the consequences of their actions. Comments from the students included: "It made me think, I am in control, and I make my own decisions," "Never do pills," and "I learned a lot from this."

Housing has long been recognized as a basic human need. Yet, because housing is often a family's largest expense and largest debt, it can be a stumbling block for many. Safe, lower-cost housing options are often limited for struggling families, and this can lead them into crisis. Family and Consumer Sciences Extension helps people improve home safety, lessen their environmental footprint, and strengthen financial stability. It also helps communities promote healthy lifestyles throughout the lifespan by supporting strong family home environments. Please tell us ways you think we can do more.
