SPOTLIGHT ON ...

WALK ACROSS KENTUCKY

The Todd County Extension agent for Family and Consumer Sciences partnered with North Todd Elementary School to offer Walk Across Kentucky to kindergarten through 5th-grade students. Students used a pedometer to measure and record their steps and set goals to increase their steps. During the program, 469 students recorded walking 7,258.5 miles. The activity was modified to meet the needs of physically challenged students. Teachers reported that students enjoyed the challenge of increasing their steps, and some students started counting steps at home so the whole family could walk together. Parents reported a difference in their children's energy level and commented on how much their children enjoyed it.

ousing has long been recognized as a basic human need. Yet, because housing is often a family's largest expense and largest debt, it can be a stumbling block for many. Safe, lower-cost housing options are often limited for struggling families, and this can lead them into crisis. Family and Consumer Sciences Extension helps people improve home safety, lessen their environmental footprint, and strengthen financial stability. It also helps communities promote healthy lifestyles throughout the lifespan by supporting strong family home environments. Please tell us ways you think we can do more.
