Building Strong Families FOR KENTUCKY 2016

OUR FOCUS

Family and Consumer Sciences (FCS) Extension is committed to improving the health and well-being of individuals and families in Taylor County. To help Kentuckians strengthen their financial, physical, and social well-being, our educational programs focus on:

- Making Healthy Lifestyle Choices that influence health and well-being
- Nurturing Families as they cope with fewer resources and more demands
- Embracing Life as We Age to live independently longer
- Securing Financial Stability in a turbulent economic period
- Promoting Healthy Homes and Communities that recycle, reduce waste, and protect our environment
- Accessing Nutritious Food that is affordable, available, and safe
- Empowering Community Leaders as we all work to sustain and improve our communities

In 2014-2015, Family and Consumer Sciences Extension made 12,045 contacts with Taylor County individuals and families.¹

SPOTLIGHT ON...

RESIDENTS GET UP AND ACTIVE

Cooperative Extension attacked two health risks in Taylor County—obesity and inactivity—by organizing Second Sunday to call attention to the problem, forming a Wellness Coalition to coordinate efforts, and holding a symposium to introduce the Governor's Trail Towns concept. Citizens readily bought in and formed partnerships like Bike Friendly Campbellsville. Several new biking and hiking trails and miles of sidewalks have been added, and the Tebbs Bend Nature Area trails are open. Businesses and government are installing bike racks and classes on bike safety are well attended. Extension is hosting its second Trail Walking 101 to introduce families to available trails.
