SPOTLIGHT: ROCKCASTLE COUNTY

Hands-on Sewing Activity at Middle School

Sewing is an activity that requires critical thinking, problem-solving, and following directions. The Rockcastle County FCS Extension agent offered a basic sewing program at Rockcastle County Middle School. Participants made small makeup or shave bags and personalized pillow covers from fabrics and materials that were donated by Extension Homemakers for the project. Students also learned to sew on a button and repair rips in clothing. Participants reported that these skills would be useful to them as adults, that they felt accomplished, loved having something they made, and that the activity was fun but challenging.
