

33 Camera-ready Publications on preparing for and dealing with Death

- ◆ Every day thousands of American men, women and children die.
- ◆ Each of these deaths leaves behind a far greater number of bereaved loved ones, affecting both family and community life.
- ◆ Regardless of the circumstances, every death brings a host of emotional, physical, financial, and social changes.
- ◆ The enclosed publications provide practical information presented in a warm, inviting-to-read style.
- ◆ The topics addressed cover a wide range of subject matter. Here's a small sample of the fact sheet titles: Getting Your Affairs in Order, Ethical Wills—Passing On Values Important to You, Helping Children Deal With Death, For Teenagers—Facing the Death of Someone Close, When a Spouse Dies, Bereavement Support Groups, A Guide to Probate, and Death of a Pet.
- ◆ One of the publications is a Facilitator's Guide that offers suggestions for using the fact sheets, establishing local Grief Education Networks, and training Volunteer Bereavement Educators.
- ◆ Although they are copyrighted, you are free to reproduce these fact sheets for nonprofit, educational purposes. All other uses are prohibited.

© Copyright © 1996 by the University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service ©
315 Funkhouser Building, Lexington, KY 40506-0054 • Phone: 606-257-7753

KENTUCKY VERSION 8/96

