SPOTLIGHT ON ...

SECURING FINANCIAL STABILITY

U.S. Dept. of Labor reports unemployment at 9.8% in Kentucky, which has forced many families to cut spending. To help extend family food budgets, Warren County Family and Consumer Sciences Agent taught "Couponing 101" 22 times to over 413 participants. Each class included meal planning, making a shopping and master shopping list, coupon etiquette, resources, coupon policies, and stockpiling. 81% reported learning to save time by planning; 88% now regularly use coupons. One participant created a coupon binder for her office. Agent partnered with local television station WBKO 13, an ABC affiliate, to conduct five segments that covered savings, and a webpage was created to share the program. The webpage featured a month-long contest, with collective savings of $2,016.
