SPOTLIGHT ON ...

PROGRESSIVE AG SAFETY DAY

Menifee County 4-H Youth Development and Family and Consumer Sciences agents received the Progressive Agriculture Safety Day grant to promote farm safety awareness. Progressive Agriculture Safety Day attendance included 85 third-graders and more than 50 volunteers from more than 20 community organizations. Topics included safety procedures and awareness for being home alone; fire; medical; sun; food; knives; farm equipment; animals; guns; Internet; social media; germs; weather; and electricity. Evaluations found that 100% of participants learned something new about safety; they committed to stay away from tractors and other power take-offs; to lock doors and windows when home alone; to use the Internet only with parents' permission; and to stay away from guns and knives.

Housing has long been recognized as a basic human need. Yet, because housing is often a family's largest expense and largest debt, it can be a stumbling block for many. Safe, lower-cost housing options are often limited for struggling families, and this can lead them into crisis. Family and Consumer Sciences Extension helps people improve home safety, lessen their environmental footprint, and strengthen financial stability. It also helps communities promote healthy lifestyles throughout the lifespan by supporting strong family home environments. Please tell us ways you think we can do more.
